LAY IN WATER FOR FOUR HOURS

With Wagonload of Corn on Top of him, Frank Krietz Lies Helpless until Son Finds him after Search.
Four Ribs Broken.

Thrown down an embankment,
pinned under a heavily loaded wagon, and lying for four hours in a pool of water, Frank Krietz, aged 74 years, a resident of Emmitsburg, was found by his son, Joseph Krietz. Although his injuries are serious, it is believed that he will recover.

Mr. Krietz was hauling a wagon-load of corn and was using a blind horse. When the animal stumbled it plunged over the embankment at the side of the road, taking the wagon along. The heavy box, filled with the grain, toppled over on Mr. Krietz who was thrown off when the horse first started down the incline, and he lay at the foot of the slope for a four hours until his son, alarmed by his failure to appear, instituted a search.

His father was in a very serious condition when found. The son secured some assistance and he was carried to the home of William Rentzel nearby and a physician was summoned.
Examination showed that several ribs had been broken, and that he had received very severe bruises about the head.

Mr. Krietz is being given every attention, and it is believed that in spite of the nature of his injuries and his age, he will recover.

SECRET ORDERS HOLD BANQUETS

Patriotic Order Sons of America
Prepare to Entertain Large Crowd
at Annual Supper. College Boys Entertain Odd Fellows.

With an attendance numbering several hundred, composed of members and friends, Washington Camp 414, P. O. S. of A. will hold their annual banquet this evening in the Independent Americans' banquet hall. Extensive preparations have been made for the affair and an elaborate supper has been prepared.

The committee in charge is composed of George B. Aughinbaugh, chairman, John W. Hewitt, J. Price Oyler, Park Noel, and Robert C. Paxton.

The following young ladies will serve the supper, Miss Mabel Mc-Cleary, Miss Carrie Pitzer, Miss Margaret Murray, Miss Ethel Zinkand,
Miss Clara Hess, Miss Viola Wisler,
Miss Helen Aumen, Miss Emma Thorn, Miss Effie Singley, Miss Elsie Little, Miss MaeBelle Little, Miss Emily McDonnell, Miss Lucy Tawney, Miss May Menchey, Miss Catherine Reinhart, Miss Florence Culp.

Prof. J. Louis Sowers has secured a number of young people of town to give an entertainment program during the time of the supper. The banquet will start promptly at half past five o'clock and the entertainment portion of the evening at seven o'clock in the P. O. S. of A. room.

York Springs Odd Fellows

The annual banquet of York Springs lodge of Odd Fellows was held Thursday evening in their hall with about 125 present. Six students from Gettysburg College furnished
the music for the evening. Dr. C. L.
Myers was the toastmaster. Addresses were made by Rev. L. M. Gardner, Rev. Paul Gladfelter, Rev. Luther W.
McGarvey, of York Springs, and C.
K. Gilbert, of Gettysburg. Among the Gettysburg Odd Fellows who attended were John W. Hewitt, E. E. Slaybaugh, C. K. Gilbert, Charles W.
Gardner, and W. J. Eden.

TO BUILD RAILROAD

State Charter Issued for an Electric Line.

Work on the construction of the first railroad to penetrate Fulton county will be started as soon as the weather permits, the State having granted letters patent for the McCon-nellsburg and Fort Loudon Railway company. It will connect the county seat of Fulton with historic Fort Loudon which has Cumberland Valley railroad connection and trolley freight will play a part in the business. The capital is $60,000.

NEW METHOD

Would Give Owners Chance to Recover their Dogs.

Instead of following the old method of shooting untrapped dogs during the period of quarantine, the town council is considering the advisability of establishing a "pound"
in which such dogs will be kept a certain length of time. Owners may recover by paying a $2.00 fee. Those who do not care to do this will know that their dogs will be chloroformed.

MR. TROXELL ILL

HIS RIGHT HAND CAUGHT IN SAW

Widely Known Resident of the County Has Member Painfully
Mangled in Accident. One Finger
Amputated. Try to Save Hand.

When a piece of wood turned as he was feeding a circular saw Thursday afternoon, George Mackley Jr., known in many parts of Adams County as a successful young farmer, had his right hand caught and severely mangled. Physicians amputated the middle finger and hope to save the hand.

Mr. Mackley resides on a large farm between New Chester and Heid-lersburg. On Thursday his father and he were engaged in doing some sawing for William A. Arthur who lives on the adjoining farm. A gasoline engine and a circular saw were used in the work. The younger Mackley was feeding the saw and had a large round piece of wood which suddenly turned over and, before he realized what was happening, his hand was being ground and torn by the sharp teeth of the saw.

Mr. Mackley cried out in pain and terror and Mr. Arthur, who was near the gasoline engine, at once threw off the power, doubtless avoiding a very much more serious injury. As it was, the hand was terribly mangled and torn. Dr. E. A. Miller, of East Berlin, and Dr. Leh, of Hampton, were both summoned and amputated the middle finger.

To-day, Mr. Mackley is getting along well and, if no further complications arise, it is believed the wounds will be healed. He is 26 years of age and is married.

The Hudson Light Six-40 Is An Attained Success

The Hudson Light Six-40 is not an engineer's hope or a designer's dream. It is an attained success. Ten thousand cars of this model are in use in the hands of private owners. Some of them have been in service over a year. At the low average of 1,000 miles per car they have traveled over 10 million miles of road. This fact is worth considering by the buyer of a new car. It shows him what he may surely expect from a similar car. It proves to him that he takes no chances when he chooses the Hudson Light Six. Experience is safer than experiment. It is better to be sure than to be sorry.

The Hudson sets the standard. You must see it before you decide. Come, let us show you the car and take you for a drive. You be the judge.

LAND TROOPS TO MOVE ON TURKS

Detachment of Allies to Wrest Constantinople From Sultan.

FRENCH GENERAL COMMANDS

More Ottoman Forts Are Silenced by the Fifty-two Warships Bombarding the Dardanelles.

London, March 5.—The allies have landed their first troops for the land attack upon Constantinople.

The military expedition not only relieves the sailors and marines who were previously put ashore to aid the warships in their campaign against the Dardanelles, but provides a mobile force for the actual land operations by which the taking of Turkey in Europe from the sultan is expected to be accomplished.

The new force comprises French troops from Morocco, Canadians, Senegalese, native Egyptian troops in small detachments and Australians. It is presumed that the major portion of this force was quickly transferred from Egypt, when the danger of a Turkish invasion by way of the Suez canal vanished.

General D'Amade, of France, commands the allied forces.

The light-house keeper at Cape Matapan reports that he saw ten gray, two masted, single-funneled steamers, undoubtedly transports, proceeding eastward. This is supposed to be a second body of invading troops.

With the arrival of the land forces it is expected that the advance in the straits will be pushed more rapidly. It was obviously impossible for the fleet to make any material progress until the forces had been landed to meet the Turks, who had been mobilized in great strength.

A dispatch from Athens says that the allies have a total of fifty-two warships on the scene. Five of them have entered the straits. While this movement was going on four battleships began bombarding the Turkish positions fronting on the Gulf of Saros, which is separated from the Dardanelles by the Gallipoli peninsula.

The forts of Dardanus, Hamidieh and Chemerlik, on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, have been silenced by the guns of the fleet. The British battleships are completely out-ranging the forts, the guns of which are unable to reply effectively to the fire of the guns of the warships.

ALLIED TORPEDO BOAT SUNK

Amsterdam, March 4.—A private telegram received here from Constantinople states that a torpedo boat which was taking part in the Anglo-French fleet's bombardment of the Dardanelles has been sunk.

The allied British-French fleet fired six shells on the Dardanelles forts without success, according to the dispatch.

CURT ADVICE TO NEUTRALS

Fight For Belgium Or Keep Quiet Says British Foreign Secretary.

London, March 5.—"Unless neutral nations are prepared to assist in throwing the Germans out of Belgium, no suggestions from them in the matter of preventing the further devastation of that country are wanted," said Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, in the house of commons.

The foreign secretary's statement was made in response to an inquiry from Frederick W. Jowett, whether the government was "willing to invite suggestions from neutrals with a view to avoiding the further devastation of Belgium by the great powers which are contending for its mastery."

"The only solution of this question," Sir Edward continued, "is the evacuation of Belgian territory by the German troops, the restoration of her independence, and reparation for the wrong done her. Unless neutral powers are prepared to assist in securing that solution, I don't see what could be gained by the course suggested."

BERLIN CUTS BREAD RATION

Daily Allowance of Less Than Half Pounding Is Set by Government.

Berlin, March 5.—The North German Gazette announces that the daily bread ration throughout the empire has been fixed at 200 grammes (a little less than half a pound) of bread or flour per capita from March 15. Instead of 225 grammes, the amount previously permitted.

The returns on stocks of grain and flour taken on Feb. 1, which now have been received, show that there is enough of these supplies to continue the earlier ration until next harvest but it was thought best, according to the newspaper, to hold a reserve for contingencies.

Wheat Drops 7 1/2 Cents.

Chicago, March 5.—Wheat prices made a sudden downward plunge in the last fifteen minutes of trading. The market broke to a point 7 1/2 cents a bushel under Wednesday night, the May delivery touching $1.37, as against $1.45 1/2 for the same option the day before. At the extreme low point the price showed a drop of 26 cents a bushel since the highest was $1.67 on Feb. 5.

ABARNO AND CARBONE.

Bomb Throwers Face 25-Year Term For Plot.

Photos by American Press Association.

The cases of Frank Abarno (top) and Charles Carbone (below), the anarchists caught placing bombs in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York city, were taken before the grand jury by District Attorney Perkins, who asks for an indictment under the statute making possible twenty-five years' punishment for placing explosives in a building with intent to damage or destroy and thereby endanger human life. It was not until night that the prisoners learned that their supposed comrade and confederate, whom they knew as Frank Baldo, was in reality Amedeo Polignani, a member of the police force for the past year, whose excellent work in trapping the bomb throwers has won commendation of officials, from the mayor and police commissioners down.

RUSSIANS MAKE GAIN ON GALICIAN FRONT

Gen. Brussiloff Leads Troops to Victory Over Austrians.

London, March 5.—Interest in the Russian campaign has again shifted to the extreme south portion of the line of battle, where Petrograd reports that General Brussiloff has won a noteworthy victory south of Ballgrad, inflicting heavy losses on the Austrians, who were again pressing north to the relief of Przemyśl.

At the same time an unofficial dispatch from Bucharest credits the Russian forces with the recapture of Stanislau, in Galicia, about sixty miles from Tarnopol.

At the same time Vienna reports the repulse of desperate Russian counter attacks in the Carpathians, with comparative inactivity along the remainder of the line.

Berlin admits officially the German retirement from Przysnysz, north of Warsaw, which was made in good order, in spite of the haste that necessitated the abandonment of wounded.

The German forces in northern Poland are concentrating their efforts in the endeavor to break through the Russian fortified lines near the Prussian frontier, by capturing the fortress of Ossowiec. This battle, the outcome of which is regarded as of high importance, is proceeding with increased violence. The Germans have succeeded in bringing up some of their heaviest and most effective guns, including the great 16-inch field pieces.

Governor to Invite Taft.

YOUNG WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND

Mystery of Lillian Cook's Death Deepens.

EMPLOYER LED DUAL LIFE

He Tells of Maintaining Two Households and of Dead Girl Acting as Nurse in One of Them.

New Haven, Conn., March 5.—The body of Lillian May Cook, the missing stenographer for the Mayo Radiator company, who disappeared a week ago, was found at West Rock, a hill west of this city.

The body of the young woman was found by Raymond Phillips, who notified the police.

Virgilus J. Mayo, head of the Mayo Radiator company, admitted that he for years has been maintaining two households. His wife has been living with him at 996 Dixwell avenue. A woman who was formerly his stenographer at the radiator factory, Miss Waterbury, has been living as his wife under the name of Mrs. Lois Dudley in Mr. Mayo's house at 544 Fourth street, Park Slope, Brooklyn. This statement was made before the finding of the Cook girl's body.

Mr. Mayo admitted that two of the children in the Brooklyn home are his and Miss Waterbury's. Lillian Cook, the missing stenographer, once acted as a nurse for Miss Waterbury's children. Mayo says that after the girl left his employ in Brooklyn he gave her a position, but denied that she knew anything of the Dudley affair.

Mayo explained that Miss Waterbury had adopted the name of Mrs. Lois Dudley for convenience. He admitted that she formerly was his stenographer in the position Lillian Cook occupied until her disappearance last Thursday.

Mayo then went on to say: "Any one who says that I know anything about the disappearance of Lillian Cook is an infamous liar," and he told of a clue that had come to him as to her whereabouts in a letter from a friend in Springfield, Mass., saying that the girl was there a few days ago.

Later a policeman of New Haven said that he had seen a girl board a train for Springfield. Word was sent to the Springfield authorities and search had begun there.

"I left here last Thursday afternoon with Chance Vought, of my hydro aeroplane department, for Washington at 4 o'clock," he said. "We had business in Philadelphia and remained there over night. We arrived in Washington on Friday noon and went to the New Willard. We found a telegram there from Ellen Wilson, chair of Lillian Cook, announcing the girl's disappearance. I called up the New Haven factory by phone and asked that the police be notified. Saturday morning I took an early train home."

"I offered a reward of $100 and helped conduct the search until Sunday night, when I had to go to Buffalo. On my return on Tuesday I went to the Cook home in Brooklyn after learning that no trace of the girl had been found. I urged the Cooks to come to New Haven, which they did."

RECOVER 35 BODIES

There is Little Hope of Finding Mine Victims Alive.

Hinton, W. Va., March 5.—High up on Quinimont mountain families and friends of the miners entombed by the explosion in the Layland mine on Tuesday still waited anxiously for any news from the rescue crews.

Fresh air was forced far into the workings. Thirty-five bodies had been recovered.

After canvassing the situation the company made known the names of 177 who were employed in the workings affected. The opinion prevailed that perhaps twenty men had escaped the disaster.

Very little hope is now entertained that any of the buried men are still alive.

Shot By Unwelcome Guest.

Huntington, Pa., March 5.—Returning home, Simon G. Price, of Orbisonia, found Frank Hoffman with his wife and daughter. Price ordered Hoffman out. Hoffman grabbed Price's shotgun and fired at him, the discharge tearing open his neck near the jugular vein, the police say. Price is in the Blair hospital and Hoffman is in jail.

Acquit Hunter of Slaying.

Williamsport, Pa., March 5.—Arthur Callahan, of State Run, who fatally wounded Frank P. Jerald, a state forester, in mistake for a deer in the woods last fall, and was charged with involuntary manslaughter, was acquitted in court.

Dog Chews Man's Hand to Splinters

Wilmington, Del., March 5.—A big bulldog was chewing the right hand of Constable L. C. Jones to splinters—it is an artificial member—when the constable landed such a blow on the head of the animal that he was compelled to take the count.

Mother and Children Killed By Gas

BANK IN PITTSBURGH FAILS

German National Suffers When Brewing Companies Are Hit.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 5.—The German National bank, of Pittsburgh, did not open its doors for business.

A notice on the door said that it had been closed by order of the controller of the currency.

The officers and directors of the bank are prominently identified with the Pittsburgh Brewing company, whose securities recently have suffered heavily on the Pittsburgh stock exchange because, it was said, of the enactment of prohibition laws in West Virginia and the extension of local option in eastern Ohio.

J. F. W. Evermann, cashier, issued a statement in which he expressed the hope that depositors would be paid in full.

The bank was organized in 1904, with a capital stock of $500,000, and on Dec. 31 last reported deposits of $5,024,928. Its surplus and undivided profits on that date were $594,285. Its dividend rate was 12 per cent annually.

DROP OF $24,000,000 IN BALDWIN OUTPUT

Decrease in 1914 Laid to War, Tariff and Legislation.

Philadelphia, March 5.—The total value of the output of the Baldwin Locomotive works and its subsidiary, the Standard Steel works, fell off $24,014,805.85 last year, from the total of 1913, according to the report of the board of directors read at the fourth annual meeting of the corporation in the offices of the locomotive works.

Blame for the poor condition of business during the latter part of 1913 and the first half of 1914 is laid upon the "unfavorable attitude of the interstate commerce commission toward the railroads, the refusal of the commission to grant the desired freight rate increase, and the general slowing down of business, due largely to the adoption of new lower tariff rates."

"During the last half of the year 1914 these unfavorable conditions were further affected by the paralysis of the finances and of business which followed the outbreak of the European war."

This report, which is signed by Alva B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, further states that the stress of competition forced the price of orders obtained close to the cost of production, and that the total production of the plant amounted to only $13,616,163.25, or about one third of the output of 1913, which was $37,639,969.21.

ANTI-ALIEN BILL KILLED

Japanese Ambassador Objected to Montana Measure, It Is Said.

Helena, Mont., March 5.—An unfavorable committee report on a bill to prevent the employment of white women in restaurants conducted by Asiatics was adopted without discussion in the lower house of the state legislature, thus killing the measure.

The bill, it was said, was objectionable to the Japanese ambassador at Washington, and a telegram received from Senator Walsh advised that caution be used in regard to such legislation.

2 STATES RAP WAR POLICY

Wisconsin and Iowa Legislators Refuse to Endorse Mr. Wilson.

Madison, Wis., March 5.—The senate rejected by a vote of 19 to 9 a joint resolution extending the legislature's sympathy and encouragement to President Wilson in handling the neutrality problem.

Iowa Tables Endorsement.

Des Moines, Ia., March 5.—An endorsement of President Wilson's European war policy was tabled in the Iowa senate by a vote of 28 to 9.

Employment For 5000 Men.

Washington, Pa., March 5.—G. C. Oliver, general manager of the Hazle Atlas Glass Co., announced that all the plants of the company in the Washington and Wheeling districts will resume on full time within the next two weeks, probably on March 15. Three thousand workers in Washington will return to work and 2000 at Clarksburg, W. Va.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His all-wise Providence to remove from our society, Mrs. C. Irvin Blair, one of our active members; one whose presence we always enjoyed and who was removed by death from our midst February 7th, 1915; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we imitate her example so far as she was faithful in all her Christian duties and that we bow in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, who is too kind to do wrong or too wise to err.
Resolved, That we extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy in their sad bereavement, and that they go to Him who alone can give comfort and consolation in times of sorrow and bereavement.
Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and published in The Gettysburg Times, and spread upon the minutes of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christ Lutheran Church of Aspers, Penna.

STRATEGY IN WAR

Retreats to Lure the Enemy From His Base of Supplies.

KNOWN AS FABIAN TACTICS.

Methods That Have Been Used by Warriors Since Long Before the Christian Era—George Washington
Was Called the American Fabius.

After the great war in Europe had broken loose in the summer of 1914 and the allies fell back from their first line in northern France to the Marne a good deal was said and written of "Fabian tactics," and when the Germans fell back from the line of the Marne to the Aisne more was said of "Fabian tactics." In this country when Washington and the heroic Continental army fell back before the English in superior force and of superior equipment and perhaps superior discipline, his tactics were called "Fabian." In fact General George Washington was called and by historical writers is still referred to as "the American Fabius."

It is probably true that many Americans long parted from their school books have forgotten about Fabius, even though whenever an army makes an orderly retreat for the purpose of gaining time or reaching a more favorable position they speak fluently of "Fabian tactics." It is a phrase that comes trippingly off the tongue.

Fabius, as might easily be guessed from his name, was a Roman. He commanded the legions of Rome against the powers of Carthage 200 years before the Christian era. The tactics which came to be called after Fabius were no doubt employed centuries before Rome was born. Fabian tactics without doubt have been used ever since bodies of men made war, but it may be that Fabius so refined or systematized those tactics that it is just and worthy they bear his name.

Fabius in 217 B. C. stood opposite to the hosts or hordes of Carthaginians under the brilliant leadership of Hannibal. In battle before Fabius Maximus was called to the supreme command of the Roman troops in the field the Carthaginians had been victorious. Fabius, profiting by what had befallen his predecessors in command, avoided a pitched battle in the open and retreated, fighting as he fell back, holding off the enemy with what are now described as rear guard actions. Drawing the enemy farther and farther from base or the sources of supplies, wearing their troops more than he wore his own and delaying a battle until he reached ground where his position would give him a great advantage—a position against superior numbers—where the loss in men and morale of the assailants must be great and where at the proper moment the counterstroke could be delivered with high promise of success, the tactics of Fabius won.

In some ways the phrase "Fabian tactics" has been diverted from its original and proper significance and is made to comprehend any tactics of a particularly shrewd or "fox" nature. In this connection it has been said that Napoleon employed "Fabian tactics" with brilliant success at Austerlitz. The combined Austrian and Russian armies greatly extended their line in an effort to turn the right flank of the French army and cut his communications. It seemed as though this move would succeed, for Napoleon permitted it to develop without serious resistance. Then he suddenly concentrated his whole strength at the center, with the exception of a portion of Bernadotte's corps, which he left to deal with the Austrian turning force, and burst through the line, destroying one wing of the Austrian army as it retreated.

Historians of Rome deal at considerable length with a family called the Fabii. It is narrated that this ancient and renowned family undertook the duty of defending Roman territory against incursions by the Veientes and for this purpose established themselves at a place on the Cremera river. The Fabii were drawn into ambush and were all killed. The date of that event is given as B. C. 477.

A boy of the family Fabii had been left in Rome, and he became the second founder of the family. Fabius Maximus, who won his laurels and his spurs in the second Punic war, was descended from that boy, and there was another famous member of the family whose name was Fabius Pictor, who wrote a history of Rome and who is often referred to as the earliest Roman historian.—Washington Star.

In a Quandary.
"It—er—seems," said he, regarding the unfortunate with scientific interest, "that the attacks of fever and chills appear on alternate days. Do you think—is it your opinion—that they have, so to speak, decreased in violence, if I may use that word?"

The patient smiled feebly. "Doc," said he, "on fever days my head's so hot I can't think, and on ague days I shake so I can't hold an opinion."—New York Globe.

Holland's Waterstaat.
Holland has a department of state with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Express.

Trouble.
"Are you coming when I call you, or is there going to be trouble?" said papa to his four-year-old daughter. "I think dere's goin' to be trouble, papa," replied the tot, keeping out of reach.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

George Bothner, Wrestler, Tells Secret of Youth.

George Bothner, who recently defeated Miyake, the Japanese expert, according to the experts has never had an equal as a defensive wrestler. In his contest with the Jap he proved that, despite all his forty-eight years, he is as agile as and a great deal stronger than many men twenty years his junior. Bothner is a native of New York city and began to learn wrestling when but thirteen years of age. When but a boy and weighing less than 125 pounds, while taking part in an amateur tournament, he won the championship in the 125 pound class and less than two hours later won the 158 pound title. During his seven years as an amateur Bothner never lost a "bout."

"Any man can be strong and healthy if he will keep his pores open and will take plenty of exercise," says Bothner. "Men become old before their time because they eat too much and are lazy. No man should eat unless he feels hungry. Then he should eat in moderation. If the average man would exercise for fifteen minutes every day and would take a shower bath after his exertions he would not become a victim of gout or rheumatism. Heavy eating and no exercise insure these two dread diseases."

IL TROVATORE

Hanover to Have Grand Opera Saturday Evening.

"It is, indeed, gratifying," said Joseph F. Sheeha, the famous tenor, who is coming to the Hanover Opera House, Saturday evening, March 6th, with the Boston English Opera Company for a performance of the world's favorite opera, "Il Trovatore," "to see that gradually the public are beginning to realize that grand opera does not mean something intended only for the musician. This applies particularly to those operas which are interesting from a dramatic standpoint, as well as tuneful in their music, and of all of these, none quite so well fills the bill as 'Il Trovatore'."

"Given in English, as we do it, 'Il Trovatore' is as interesting in story and plot as any drama ever staged, and it would be hard to recall any drama ever given in this country with such a cast of stars as that which comprises 'The Boston English Opera Company.'"

PARTY

Miss Mary Musselman Visited by Many Friends.

An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Musselman, Fairfield, Wednesday evening, in honor of their daughter, Mary. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. James Musselman, Samuel Walter, Mrs. William Allison, Misses Mary Musselman, Ada Walter, Maebert Musselman, Edith Harbaugh, Ethel Wortz, Delta Brown, Mary Weikert, Iva Brown, Lottie Johnson, Alma Kittinger, Clara Donaldson, Edith Weikert, Carrie Kittinger, Nellie Allison, Ruth Weaver, Pauline Musselman, Lillian McGlaughlin, Messrs. Percy Polly, Clyde Musselman, James Marshall, William White, Willis Musselman, Charles Cluck, Earl Hartzell, Robert Johnson, Harry McGlaughlin, Paul Rohrbach, Frank Cluck, Ralph Musselman, Lawrence Wortz, John Allison, Edgar Felix, Samuel Musselman.

Wreaths for the Victors.

In classic times successful warriors athletes, poets and singers were sometimes crowned with bay. It is sometimes written that they were crowned with myrtle wreaths. These leaves came from a tree which botanists call "laurea nobilis."

Many of the newest waists show a tendency toward ultra-dressy effect, and this presages renewed importance for the separate skirt. Pale tea colored crepe may be used successfully for this design, which calls for 2 yards of 44-inch material, with 1 1/4 yard lining, 3/4 yard all-over lace and 3/8 yard silk for the revers.

Since the vest is made of contrasting material it can not be cut with the crepe de Chine. In placing the pattern on the lace, however, the line of large "O" perforations should rest on a lengthwise thread of lace. In making the revers of contrasting material it is best to apply them over revers of the crepe, so that in case a change is desired at any time the silk revers can be simply removed.

The back and collar are placed on a lengthwise fold of the crepe, so that they will be seamless, while the front cuff and sleeve are laid on a lengthwise thread. The most advantageous arrangement is to place the front opposite the collar and a little to the left of the back. The cuff is laid on the crepe directly opposite the under-arm seam of the back, and the sleeve to the right of the cuff. For round neck in either high or low effect, cut out neck edges of lining and shield on single small "O" perforations. Follow double "OO" perforations in front and single small "O" perforations in back, however, for the square neck. The short sleeve is indicated by small "O" perforations. A cuff of self-material or lace is used for the short cuff.

In selecting a dressy blouse, lemon color, rose and virgin blue must not be overlooked as smart colors, for they are in great demand this season.

CONDUCTORS ON EXCESS CREWS

Experienced Men Assert That Over-Manning of Trains
is Bad Practice.

Rockaway, N. J., March 4.
Not a few railroad trainmen are taking open position for repeal of the extra crew, or "excess man crew" laws. With forty-two years' experience as a passenger train conductor on the New Jersey Central Railroad, Samuel A. Crook, widely known among railroad men in the northern part of this state, says the "excess" man is a hindrance rather than a help in efficient train operation.

"I am very much opposed to the law," says this veteran conductor.
"Two brakemen I always considered sufficient, as I could get more effective work from two than I could from a larger crew. There is not enough work to keep a larger number busy."
"We never had an accident at a depot and the passengers always were accorded first class service, despite the fact that my trains sometimes contained as many as seven coaches.
I will use my influence with my representatives to give Mr. 'Full Crew' a black eye whenever I can."

Concerning the "excess man crew"
in freight service, a Pennsylvania Railroad conductor says:
"My many years' service with the company as conductor on freight trains convinced me, as it would any reasonable thinking man, of the uselessness of such a law and of the excess men for which it provides. Being personally acquainted with our representative, I shall do all I can to make plain to him the absurdity of the law."

The above article is furnished by the railroads in their efforts for the repeal of the Full Crew Bill.

These Are Advantages No Other Range Offers.

A complete and perfectly operating coal range and a complete and labor saving gas range, combined in one.
Saves buying two ranges to secure the advantages of both coal and gas fuel.
Provides a range that burns gas when the weather is warm and sultry, and that burns coal when the weather is cold and wintry.
A range that is a money saver, because it admits the use of the cheapest fuel for doing any class of work.
A range that is ready for any emergency. For quick action, use gas—for slow, or continued work, use coal.
A range that affords a place to burn trash, sweepings or waste paper in summer when gas fuel is used—a great convenience.
We have a full stock of Ranges with or without reservoir. Call and see our line before buying this Spring.

Spring Needfuls for the FARM

Every farmer has probably made up his mind what machinery he is going to buy this year. Perhaps he intends to buy it at sales. It is more profitable to buy new goods of guaranteed makes. He knows what he is getting and there is somebody to stand back of each piece if it goes wrong.

We handle only standard makes of Wagons and Machinery, every article guaranteed to give satisfaction to the purchaser.

WAGONS

Weber, Studebaker and Buckeye all good wagons. The three best manufactured. Ask for prices and take a look at the wagons. You will want one.

DEERING and McCORMICK

Binders, Mowers, Hay Rakes, Hay Tedders and Hay Loaders. Time and labor saved on a farm is money made. All these machines will save time and labor for the farmer.

PLOWS

Syracuse and Oliver,

of all kinds.

HARROWS

Single and Double Disc Harrows. Steel and Wood Frame. We can give you what you want.

CULTIVATORS

Allbright, Oliver and J. I. Case Cultivators, spring and pin hoe.

CORN PLANTERS

J. I. Case, Albright and Mountville. We have Single and Double Row Planters and Check Row.

CROWN

Grass Seeders, Sing's Shovel Plows and small Cultivators of all kinds.

GRAIN DRILLS

Superior, Crown and Empire.

The Farmer has a large variety of the best goods made to select from in our stock. It does not pay to go away from home to buy or to buy second-hand, when we place this opportunity before the Farmers of Adams County.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR
 Use it like a cold cream and dry Eczema eruptions right up.
 The moment you apply bold-sulphur to an itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.
 This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.
 For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance, it immediately subdues the itching irritation and heals the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again manifests itself.
 Any good druggist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur, which should be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with tortuous itching.

Do You Know that Railroad Expansion Makes Work and Stimulates Industry?
 Money saved by the railroads flows back to the people. The $2,000,000 paid annually by the railroads of Pennsylvania and New Jersey to unnecessary trainmen, forced upon them by the Full Crew—or "excess man crew"—Laws, deprives the people of the big benefits and advantages this money, properly expended, would bring.
 Because the efficient development of the railway industry in these States is so materially identified with the prosperity of the farmer, business man, working man, and scores of more or less affiliated industries, the railroads ask the people to help them save this huge amount—now absolutely wasted—that it may go to useful purposes and work toward restoration of general prosperity.
 This $2,000,000 spent for 80 locomotives, for example, would make one year's work for 1745 men, as follows:

In the locomotive shops	894
In the various processes of producing the 29,200,000 pounds of material going into these locomotives, 851 men would get employment as follows:
In steel mills	206
In blast furnaces	45
In iron mines	140
In coal and coke production	60
In other work	490

 Wages for all these men would amount to $1,750,000. This wage money going into circulation would make work in hundreds of other directions.
 Railroad development bears upon all industries. It affects hundreds of businesses, thousands of individuals. Under normal conditions, the railroads constitute a great constructive force. Increasing their facilities and improving their systems results in stimulating all industry and business and automatically creates work for innumerable persons in many occupations.
 Increased industrial activity swells passenger and freight traffic. This means more trains and real work for additional crews. In turn, it necessitates more locomotives and cars, increased equipment, erection of new and remodeling of old stations, reduction of grades and curves, elimination of grade crossings, construction of sidings in producing territories, increased passenger and freight terminal facilities.
 The welfare of the people and the prosperity of the railroads are closely linked. The railroads find their prosperity in the general welfare. They seek not to decrease, but to increase, employment.
 Communicate in person, by letter, or otherwise—TODAY—with your elected representatives at Harrisburg and Trenton. Ask them to repeal the Full Crew Laws. Call attention to the fact that, of 282 editorials received to date, 229 urge the repeal of the laws.
 Let all get together to start the wheels of industry turning—to open wide the doors to prosperity.
SAMUEL REA, President, Pennsylvania Railroad.
DANIEL WILLARD, President, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.
THEODORE VOORHIES, President, Philadelphia and Reading Railway.
R. L. O'DONNELL, Chairman, Executive Committee, Associated Railroads of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, 721 Commercial Trust Building, Philadelphia.

Duty Ever Present.
 A sense of duty purifies us ever. It is omnipresent, like the Deity. If we take to ourselves the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, duty performed or duty violated is still with us, for our happiness or our misery.—Daniel Webster.
Benefit in Comradeship.
 Half the difficulty of fighting any severe battle or accomplishing any hard task vanishes when a man feels that he has comrades at his side fighting in the same cause, so that the eyes of those he loves are upon him, and their hearts praying for his victory.—C. J. Perry.

CONGRESS LEAVES WORK UNFINISHED

Two Budgets Fail, But Are Continued by Resolution.

MANY FAREWELL SPEECHES

Many Men Long In Public Life. Among Them Root and Burton, Return to Private Life.

Washington, March 5.—The Sixty-third congress adjourned yesterday. The total appropriations of the session were approximately $1,120,484,324, several millions under the record of previous congresses.

Two appropriation bills failed. Current appropriations for the postal service and the Indian office were extended for another year.

In the closing hours President Wilson signed the seamen's bill, the neutrality resolution empowering him to prevent ships leaving American ports with supplies for belligerent warships, promoted Colonel Goethals to be a major general for his services as builder of the Panama canal, and gave promotions to other officers associated with the work.

The administration ship purchase bill, the Philippine bill, the conservation bills, the rural credits provision of the agricultural bill and ratification of the treaties with Colombia and Nicaragua—all hard pressed administration measures—fell by the way-side.

In the senate several members, long prominent national figures, among them Mr. Root and Mr. Burton, stepped back into private life as the curtain fell. In the house Mr. Underwood, the Democratic leader, said goodbye, to sit in the next senate, and three-score or more members retired.

For many minutes before adjournment there was a lull in the senate. Absolutely no business was transacted. Senator Simmons paid a tribute to Senator Perkins, of California, who retired. Senator Perkins sat for a moment in contemplation of the tribute. Then he slowly half rose from his seat, feebly waved his hand toward the North Carolina senator and his colleagues in a gesture of farewell, and then took his seat again, too overcome with emotion to speak.

Senator Gallinger offered a resolution of thanks to Vice President Marshall for his services as presiding officer of the senate.

In the house the last hour was devoted to tributes to Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood and the Republican leader, James R. Mann.

Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, announced the presentation of a portrait of Mr. Underwood to be hung in the hall of the ways and means committee.

President Wilson kept "open house" and a steady procession of senators and representatives of all parties went from the capitol to the White House to shake hands with the president and say goodbye. Later the president went to the capitol and promptly began signing the accumulation of bills and resolutions.

HENSEL GIFTS TO CHARITIES

Many Requests in Will of Former Attorney General.

Lancaster, Pa., March 5.—The will of W. U. Hensel, former attorney general, was probated. Among the public bequests are:

Franklin and Marshall college, $600; St. Paul's reformed church, Quarryville, $500; First Presbyterian church, Lancaster, $500; Bellevue Presbyterian church, Gap, Pa., $500; Lancaster County Historical society, $500, and $500 to the city of Lancaster, the interest of which is to be used for coal and ice for the poor.

His city properties, his summer residence, the "Break House," farms and the remainder of his estate were left to his daughter.

Burned Lighting Gas Oven.

Florence, N. J., March 5.—Mrs. Robert Phillips was perhaps fatally burned while lighting a gas oven. She allowed too much gas to escape before applying the flame and was burned about the face and hands. It will be necessary to amputate one hand.

British Release Philadelphia Ship.

New York, March 5.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has received a cable saying that the tank ship Platania, detained at Kirkwall, Scotland, by the British admiralty, has been released and is now on its way to its destination.

South Dakota to Vote on Prohibition.

Pierre, S. D., March 5.—Woman suffrage and statewide prohibition will come before the voters of South Dakota at the general election in November, 1916, the state legislature adopting resolutions to this effect.

Holland Follows U. S. Lead.

The Hague, March 5.—The Dutch government will follow the course indicated by America with reference to England's declaration of a blockade against Germany.

Minnesota Senate Rejects Suffrage.

St. Paul, Minn., March 5.—The Minnesota senate defeated the bill providing for the submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment granting full suffrage to women.

FAMILY POISONED BY CHEAP CANDY

Prompt Treatment Saved Lives of Mother and Children.

Camden, N. J., March 5.—After eating a quantity of stale candy purchased at a neighborhood store, Mrs. Sarah Renshaw, 1212 Pavonia street, her four children and a neighbor's boy became violently ill with convulsions, and only the prompt use of the stomach pump is believed to have saved their lives.

Mrs. Renshaw, her four sons, Charles, Jr., twelve years old; James, nine; Frank, six, and Harry, four, and Harry Wilkie, twelve years old, of 1209 Pavonia street, were taken to the West Jersey Homeopathic hospital after neighbors, hearing the screams of the sufferers, who were rolling about on the floor of the Renshaw kitchen in the throes of convulsions, had summoned the police.

Just what the nature of the poison contained in the candy was the hospital authorities and the police were not prepared to say. A quantity of the stuff, mostly popcorn and a cheap grade of chocolate confection, put up in the form of a penny prize bag, will be turned over to a chemist for analysis. Detectives are at work on the case and arrests may be made.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY A HERO

Williamsport Lad Saves Life of His Younger Brother.

Williamsport, Pa., March 5.—George Stanley, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Stanley, was acclaimed a hero when he saved his two-year-old brother from burning to death.

The two children were alone in the house, Mrs. Stanley having gone on an errand to a neighbor's home. While playing with a celluloid ruler, the younger boy stuck one end of it into the stove and the ruler burst into flame, setting fire to his clothes.

Seeing to realize his brother's danger and just what was necessary to be done, George quickly threw him on the floor and, picking up a rug, threw it over him, smothering the flames.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

COOKING DRIED BEANS.

THE favorite baked bean contains much nourishment, and bean soup made with navy beans is to be commended for Lenten dinners. However, dried beans may be served in many other desirable ways. Some hints along this line are given here.

With Tomatoes and Onions.

Boiled Beans.—Take one cupful dry beans, three onions, two tablespoonfuls butter, three dried tomatoes, salt and pepper. Soak the beans in water for ten to twelve hours, boil in new water for fifteen or twenty minutes, strain and with clean water, twice their measure put into a suitable vessel, adding the tomatoes, cut in small pieces, and the onions, which should be first fried in butter till a light brown. Season to taste. Boil till tender and serve hot.

Bean Potage.—Take one pint of white or colored beans soaked overnight. Put in cold, fresh water next morning and boil until soft and dry; then add one tablespoonful of butter, two of vinegar and three of molasses. Season with one-half teaspoonful of pepper and one teaspoonful each of salt and dry mustard. Stir well and boil ten minutes.

Beans With Fat Pork.

Bean Loaf.—Take a pint of beans, soak overnight in cold water, drain and chop three slices of fat pork and cook until tender. Then remove pork and when cold chop very fine. Chop the beans with a sharp knife. Mix with half the quantity of bread-crumbs. Add a little melted butter, tablespoonful of cream, a beaten egg and moisten with bean broth. Press into a greased baking tin and bake brown. Cut in squares and serve hot or cold with ketchup.

Bean Croquettes.—Wash beans and soak overnight. Boil until tender, changing the water several times. Boiling them with a small piece of salt pork, a bay leaf and an onion improves the flavor. When the beans are tender take them off and mash. Season with butter, salt and pepper and add enough milk or stock to make them the right consistency. Add a well beaten egg to the purée, form it into small croquettes, roll them in egg and crumbs and fry in hot fat.

MEDICINAL TREES.

A Dozen Varieties in This Country That Need Attention.

There are about a dozen trees growing in the United States which are entirely or partly for medicines. On account of the enormous quantities required it is a foregone conclusion that in the not far distant future trees will have to be planted to meet the demand that is fast growing, or else we shall suffer from the lack of necessary drugs.

The presence of hydrocyanic acid in the thin inner bark of the wild cherry and its tonic and sedative properties make the tree valuable. It is gathered in the fall, and a fresh supply is required each year, as it loses strength if kept too long.

Witch hazel plays a prominent part in the medicine chest of every household today and represents in its manufacture many thousands of dollars in invested capital. The Indian knew of its healing properties long before the white man came.

The New England farmers find the witch hazel crop one of much value and a regular source of income. The brush is taken to the local distillery, where the essential properties are extracted. While it is usually classified as a shrub, it has been known to grow to the height of twenty-five feet. It also has the peculiarity of blooming very late in the fall.

The bark of the slippery elm is highly prized for the relief of colds and to allay inflammations. This tree grows to the height of from forty to seventy feet, with a trunk two and one-half feet thick. The outer bark is shaved off and the inner one removed and dried under pressure in order to keep it flat. The dried bark is remarkable for its small proportion of weight to bulk.

The white pine, which plays such an important part in building industries, is conspicuous among trees possessing medicinal properties.

These four are among the best known and most widely used of nature's remedies growing wild in the woods. There are others of various kinds and degrees of usefulness. The tamarack and the aspen, both of them esteemed as tonics; the white willow, a tonic, a febrifuge and sometimes used for rheumatism; the butternut, whose bark serves as a tonic and a mild cathartic; sweet birch, best known as the principal ingredient in birch beer; the white oak, with its astringent bark, and, perhaps as popular as any bark that grows, the sassafras.—New York American.

Medical Advertising HOW FRENCH PEOPLE CURE STOMACH TROUBLE

A household remedy of the French peasantry, consisting of pure vegetable oil, and said to possess wonderful merit in the treatment of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles, has been introduced in this country by George H. Mayr, who for twenty years has been one of the leading down-town druggists of Chicago and who himself was cured by its use. So quick and effective is its action that a single dose is usually enough to bring pronounced relief in the most stubborn cases, and many people who have tried it declare they never heard of anything to produce such remarkable results in so short a time. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and can now be had at all leading drug stores. It is sold with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

Medical Advertising LADIES! Darken Your Gray Hair Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and No Body Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. People's Drug Store can supply you.

He Was a Very Mean Man

By OSCAR COX

I knew a man who was so mean that he married a woman he believed to be waiting for his best friend to marry her.

Ralph Newland and Herbert Tucker were the friends. Ralph was the selfish man. Herbert was so generous that he would have given away his head if it could have been of use to another. The secret of Ralph's power over women
no one could explain except the girls he fooled, and it is a question if even they knew just how he did it. At any rate, he seemed to draw them as honey draws flies.

Tucker became engaged to Laura Perkins and introduced his friend Newland to her. Within a fortnight she had deserted Tucker for Newland.
Tucker was philosophic about it. He said that if the girl preferred his friend to him his friend was welcome to her and she to him. After the damage had been done Newland sneered and left Miss Perkins out in the cold. She tried to make it up with Tucker, but Tucker would have nothing to do with her. What made her mad was that Tucker seemed to be more friendly than before with the man who had deprived him of her. It was a direct reflection on her, indicating that Tucker felt grateful for having been saved from her.

After awhile Tucker made up to another girl, Helen Spangler. He introduced Newland to this one, too, telling him that if he could win her away from him he was welcome to do so.
Tucker didn't want any girl for a wife who didn't love him better than the whole world. He asked his friend to put his second love to a similar test to the first. Newland accommodated him and captured the girl.

Tucker was so pleased at having been saved from a girl who could not have been in love with him—so he considered it—that he blew Newland off to a champagne dinner. Newland was surprised that his friend took all this supplaining with such equanimity, but could not detect the slightest wounding of his amour propre. "It's all right,"
said Tucker, "only a matter of taste.
Some day I may find a girl who will truly love me; then no one can take her away from me. Meanwhile I appreciate these services you are doing me."

Newland dropped the last girl as he had dropped the first. Miss Spangler had more tact than the other. She didn't let on she was a bit displeased.
She only said that there wasn't enough in both the men to make one real, noble, good man, and she was well rid of both of them. But she did not say this to either Tucker or Newland; she said it to a friend. As to the men, she told them she hoped they would both be her friends for ever and ever. This was after she had known of how Tucker stuck to Newland despite the way the former was taking the latter's girl away from him, and probably she wanted to show that a woman might have an equanimity of that kind in her as well as a man.

One day Newland received an anonymous note informing him that Tucker was courting a third girl and keeping it a secret from his friend. Newland showed the note to Tucker, who denied the impeachment. Newland only half believed him. Only persons of real innocence believe in the innocence of others, and Newland wasn't exactly an innocent man, as may appear from this story.

Presently he received another letter informing him that Tucker was about to be married. Newland did not show this letter to Tucker. He kept it to himself, but concluded to watch his friend. It happened that Tucker had a platonic friend on whom he called occasionally, and one evening Newland shadowed him to her house.

"I wonder," said Newland to himself,
"if after all I've done for him he thinks he's going to fool me. I'll get even with him."

Tucker told Newland one day that he was going out of town for a week.
A few hours after the parting Newland was called to the telephone, and the following brief dialogue occurred between him and a female voice:

"Mr. Newland?"

"Yes, I'm Newland."

"Are you aware that your friend,
Mr. Tucker, is about to be married this evening?"

"No, is he?"

"Yes, at a quarter to 9 at 274 Mulford street."

"You don't mean it?"
There was a click, and Newland could get nothing more. It was half past 8. No time to lose. He was in evening dress, ready for a wedding.
Calling a cab, in ten minutes he was at 274 Mulford street and entered a room where a bride and two bridesmaids were evidently awaiting the groom. The bride was veiled, and the bridesmaids turned away.

"For heaven's sake, don't marry Herbert Tucker," he said to the bride. "He will make your life miserable."
There was a hurried dialogue. The bride said she had promised to marry and must marry, whereupon Newland declared that rather than have her sacrifice herself he would marry her.
A parson waiting in the next room was called in, the bridesmaids turned, each let down a veil, and the couple were married. When they were pronounced man and wife the three women raised their veils.

The bride was old and homely. One bridesmaid was Miss Perkins, the other Miss Spangler.

Rheuma acts promptly and directly upon the kidneys; it cleanses them; it absolutely renovates and leaves them in perfect condition, able to do the work nature intended they should do.

COUGHS, SORE THROAT AND CHEST COLDS GO

Money Back, Says Chemist Begy, if Mustard Isn't by Far the Best
Mustard Preparation Now
Sold by Druggists.

A BIG YELLOW BOX FOR 25c

Ask your druggist to show you a box of Begy's Mustard; he and every other druggist in America is authorized to return your money if it does not do as advertised.

Just rub it on and away goes sore throat, coughs and chest colds overnight. It will not blister, but it will stop headache, earache or toothache in 10 minutes.

Doctors have prescribed it for 15 years. It's the original, and quickly stops rheumatic pains, neuritis, neuralgia and lumbago and instantly relieves tonsillitis, pleurisy and bronchitis.

For sprains, swellings and all aches and pains it has no equal, while for sore, burning feet, chilblains and frost-bitten thousands use it. Be sure it's Begy's, in the yellow box. People's Drug Store can supply you.
